

Parent-Child Communication Workshop

How to Build Communication and Addressing Behavioral Challenges

---

Does your student feel the stress of school and, no matter how much you try to help, nothing seems to get through? Does your child have behavioral concerns? Is there a break down in communication?

Come to our Parent Only workshop where we will discuss:

- Understand the root causes and functions of behaviors
- Address behavioral concerns: attention seeking, lack of receptiveness to instructions, and escape task demand
- Understand power struggle when children argue with parents
- How to use Differential Reinforcement to encourage positive behaviors and reduce maladaptive behaviors

Saturday, November 4th

4:15 – 5:15

Communication Academy

7337 Bollinger Road

Cupertino, CA 95014

Free! to Parents with students taking a current class with us!

If not a current Communication Academy Parent, $10 per person.

Sign up over the phone or in person

Space is limited

About the Seminar Facilitator, Randi Beckman:

Randi Beckman received a MA in International Relations with a focus on Human Rights from the University of San Diego. She also earned a Masters in Social Work from San Diego State University. In addition, she possesses a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Studies from Emerson College in Boston, Massachusetts. Ms. Beckman has extensive experience serving as a public speaker throughout the community, speaking on global topics centered on human rights. She has over 8 years of experience working with at-risk school age children and teens and 5 additional years of experience working in the public school system. She currently works as an Instructor at Communication Academy teaching a variety of courses centered on communications, reading, and writing.